MISSION STATEMENT

Seizing the motivating opportunity created by pregnancy and parenthood, HPP joins with families to help them recognize their strengths and trust in their capacity to transform their lives to break the cycle of homelessness and poverty.

HPP has been serving homeless families since 1989.

This year, a staff of 55, more than half of whom are formerly homeless mothers, will provide comprehensive services for more than 2,600 families.

This year's HPP Our House event honors the Labor and Delivery Nurses of San Francisco General Hospital. Laura Mahlmeister, RN, PhD, who has been a labor and delivery nurse for nearly 40 years, states eloquently, "With regard to SFGH's nurses on Labor and Delivery, there is an esprit de corps that centers on CARING. CARING is the essence of nursing. Caring means going beyond the complex tasks of providing physical care. It means addressing the social, spiritual and emotional needs of women and their infants. That is what the Birth Center nurses do, and that is why they are unparalleled in their practice. Supporting the Homeless Prenatal Program is an example of this ethic of caring."
